Thanksgiving Prayer

We shall be thankful, O Lord,
That we live, hear, and can speak;
That we can see the wonders of this earth;
That we enjoy democracy and freedom—
Freedom under the laws of this fair land.

We shall be thankful for our homes,
For love of our families and friends;
For food to eat and clothes to wear.
We're thankful for our plants and flowers.
For the rains and sunshine to make them grow.

We shall be grateful for the Pilgrims and Pioneers
Who brought forth and developed our nation;
For those who gave their lives for freedom's sake
And for those who protect us now;
For opportunities to serve people here and everywhere.

We're thankful, too, for education,
For teachers to help us grow and learn the new skills
for living;
For minds to use to make the future better than the past.
We're grateful for the privilege of worshiping as we choose.
For all these things, O Lord, we shall be thankful.

Mrs. Rae Volz To Be Honored by Community Tea

Albany School Board members, administrators, faculties from the five Albany schools and friends will honor Mrs. Rae Volz, former Board member, at a tea on Thursday, Dec. 9, in the Albany High School cafeteria at 3:30 p.m.

As a gesture of appreciation for the important role played by Mrs. Volz on Albany's Board of Education, school officials will pay special tribute to her achievements on this occasion.

The distinguished services and fine contributions offered to Albany's youth by Mrs. Volz have already been recognized. At an Alameda County Schools District Board meeting held recently in San Leandro, Rock La Fleche, superintendent of Alameda County schools, singled out several board members for service awards. Mrs. Volz was honored for her 10 years of service to the Albany Unified School District.

Sponsored by the personnel of the Albany schools, a holiday dinner will set a festive note at this tea. Mrs. Kenneth Fory and Mrs. William Woolworth will pour.

City officials, PTA groups, service clubs, and all of Mrs. Volz's friends in the community are cordially invited to this tea given for a truly gracious lady who has dedicated 10 years to helping to raise educational standards in the City of Albany.

Irene White New C of C Treasurer

Irene White

Irene White of the Solano Avenue branch of Bank of America has been named new treasurer of Albany Chamber of Commerce, succeeding Cecil Wentz, also of Bank of America, who resigned because he was transferred.

The new addition to the board of directors was announced by President William I. Garren.

Garren said letters have gone out to all Albany businessmen requesting financial support for the Christmas decorations along Solano and San Pablo Avenues. He urged early and generous response. Bob Rhea of Albany Bowl is chairman of the project.

Much progress has been made on the business directory, Garren said. Currently the Chamber is working on professional listings and the book should be ready for printing at an early date. Those interested in being included should call LA 5-1771 as soon as possible.

Mayor Lewis Howell Named Chairman of Local March of Dimes

Mayor Lewis M. Howell will serve as Albany chairman for the 1966 March of Dimes campaign, Sheriff Frank I. Madigan, county campaign chairman, has announced.

Howell, whose son, Jack, was a victim of paralytic polio in 1954, has been an active supporter of the March of Dimes for many years. When Jack was stricken, Mayor Howell recalls, there was only one man willing to drive the ambulance from Albany to Highland Hospital—Police Chief Ralph Jensen, who was last year's March of Dimes chairman. The boy recovered from his paralysis sufficiently to be accepted by the navy.

A native of Rochester, N.Y., Howell has lived in Albany since Feb. 22, 1930. Now serving his seventh term as mayor, he has been a member of the City Council 14 years. He is buyer and advertising manager for Park and Shop Markets, which has stores in San Francisco, Berkeley and Walnut Creek.

Howell is past president of the East Bay division of League of California Cities, was vice president of Alameda County Mayors Conference four years, has been a member of Retail Clerks union 370 25 years, and is a member of Berkeley Elks lodge, Bayview Aerie of Fraternal Order of Eagles, Retail Grocers of Alameda County, Solano Avenue Merchants and Albany Chamber of Commerce as Park and Shop representative.

He and his wife, Hazel, live at 1079 Peralta, Albany. They are the parents of Donald, John (Jack), Diane, Lynn and Marilyn. Four are Albany High School graduates and Marilyn is now a student there.

"As a father and grandfather, I am pleased that the March of Dimes is now fighting birth defects, the number one childhood health problem in America today," Howell said. "I am looking forward to another banner year in Albany, which has always had tremendous records in support of the March of Dimes. We are now organizing the committee and planning special events for next January."

Dedication Committee Scheduled To Meet Tonight at Albany Bowl

Members of the committee charged with the responsibility of planning "one of the most important events in Albany's history," the dedication ceremonies for new city buildings Saturday, Jan. 15, will meet at 8 p.m. tonight (Tuesday) at Albany Bowl.

Subcommittee chairmen were named at a meeting last Wednesday night at city hall. At that meeting it was decided to go ahead with plans for an evening celebration at Golden Gate Fields clubhouse following the ribbon-cutting and tours at the civic center.

Monday Night Council Agenda

The agenda of the Albany City Council last night included the following communications:

Richard C. East, Assistant Secretary, California Toll Bridge Authority, advising of meeting to be held on Tuesday, Nov. 23, 1965, to consider a recommendation to authorize the issuance of revenue bonds to finance construction of the Rapid Transit Tube.

Board of Supervisors, County of Los Angeles, re: Initiative Petition to return to local jurisdictions the regulation of sexual activity.

Andrew H. Trice, Economic Consultant, offering his services.

Petition signed by six Retired Civil Service Employees requesting changes in the pension plan.

Mayor Wallace Johnson, City of Berkeley, re: Neighborhood Youth Corps Program.

A. Warren Larson, President of Golden Gate Audubon Society re: Cleaning up of "mud flats."

Barry Runnion, Jr., General Chairman of the Dedication Committee for new civic buildings, requesting the Council to make an appropriation of $1,000 to be used by the committee.

Ralph M. Jensen, Chief of Police, recommending reimbursement to Officer Robert Buck for lost wrist watch.

Myrtle J. McLean, City Assessor, requesting adjustment on veterans exemption which was not allowed in error.

James B. Turner, Administrative Officer, concerning High School Construction Plan (Encroachment Permit).

James B. Turner, Administrative Officer, report and recommendation on traffic hazard at Curtis and Solano Avenues.

Jolly (Green) Giant Joins Albany P.D.

David L. Easley, 24, of Hayward, six feet six inches tall, is the newest and tallest member of the Albany Police Department.

Although he has been working the night shift, he is now on days and will soon be taking his turn on the three-wheeler marking tires and distributing tickets.

Officer Easley served in the U.S. Marine Corps from December, 1959, to December, 1963. He was employed by Caterpillar Tractor company in San Leandro before joining the police department here.

He and his wife, Margaret, are the parents of Cynthia, two, and Lisa, six months.

Sam H. Dows, representing Albany High 12 club, was named chairman of the pre-ribbon cutting festivities. This tentatively will feature a parade from old city buildings to the modern new structures, "moving" members of the City Council, possibly fire and police equipment and other items to their new home and the appearance of the Albany High school band in new uniforms.

Mrs. Carl MacWilliams is chairman of the ribbon-cutting committee. Representing Alberito chapter of Business and Professional Women's clubs, Mrs. MacWilliams will supervise the issuing of invitations to dignitaries the planning of the program itself and other details of this historic ceremony.

Bernice Boyd, representing the Soroptimist club, is chairman of tours and hostesses. She will work with department heads in arranging tours and the possibility of serving refreshments in the new buildings. It was the consensus of the committee that it would be a shame to mess up the spic and span buildings with refreshment debris, but it was considered that refreshments might be served in the equipment section of the fire department.

Administrative Officer James B. Turner said it is unlikely that all details of the move will have been completed by the date of the ribbon-cutting, but he said it is anticipated that the new furniture will be in place and the new civic center will be in full operation by the first of the following week.

The committee enthusiastically endorsed the idea of a dinner-dance at Golden Gate Fields as a community-wide celebration to top off the big day.

Chairman Barry Runnion, Jr., said it is important to get this phase of the festivities underway immediately. He named his wife, Audrey, to head the food and ticket committee, which will be the largest subcommittee and will work closely with all organizations within the city.

Jack Dempster, representing Albany Jaycees, will head the cleanup committee and Mrs. Greg McArthur was named finance chairman.

Subcommittee chairmen met Sunday in order to have reports ready for the meeting tonight.

Others attending the meeting last Wednesday were J. Neil Clarity, Bob Rhea, Roger Pessagno, Emma Lueckfeldt, W. N. McClain, Marietta Ferreira, Dorothy Larimer, Bud Rooney, Roland Grisham, Joe Dagna, Gil Freels and Edith Sheriff.

Planting Program at Tilden Park Offers Opportunity to Groups

With the coming of fall rains, a wildflower seeding program for youth, community and family groups is underway in the Tilden Regional Park Nature Area, under the sponsorship of the Berkeley College Women's Club. Youth groups and organizations throughout the Regional Park District are being notified that over 2,000 packets of wildflower seeds provided by the College Women's Club are available for planting in designated areas within the nature preserve. Regional Park naturalists will supervise the seeding and provide instruction sheets for each variety of seed. Groups wishing to join in the project are urged to make reservations for their "planting party" by calling the Tilden Nature Area, 524-1034.

Among the seeds available are baby blue eyes, California poppy, goldenrod, columbine and four varieties of lupin. Yellow bush lupin seeds were gathered from plants originally seeded by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz along Nimitz Way in Tilden Park. Seeds of sticky monkey flower, penstemon and phacelia were gathered from plants growing in the Tilden Park Botanic Garden. Several varieties of native shrub,

Solano Pet Shop Celebrates 20th Anniversary

November 26 marks the 20th anniversary in business for Laura Weeks and Joan Dial, owners of the Solano Pet Shop at 1575 Solano Avenue.

The "girls," as they are usually called by most of their long-time customer-friends, opened their first pet shop in a small store at 1603 Solano on Nov. 26, 1945. At that time their inventory consisted mainly of seeds, grains, and fresh meat for dogs and cats, and a few small animal pets.

Eight years later, they expanded into their present location at 1575 Solano, increasing the display space, warehouse and boarding space by 2,000 square feet, and adding an unusual selection of popular and exotic pets as well as tropical fish and supplies.

During the past 20 years the shop and its pets have been featured on a number of television and radio programs, and hundreds of classes from various schools and youth clubs have visited to learn more about the interesting animals always on display there.

In celebrating this anniversary, the owners are offering large discounts—up to 20 per cent on many items—and a drawing for free prizes will be held on Dec. 4.

NATURE'S LAWS—There are traffic laws made by man, and traffic laws made by nature. You might ignore those made by man, but you can't ignore nature's laws. They seldom give you a second chance, warns the California State Automobile Association. One of these is force of impact—the force with which objects meet. It is determined by the speed of the moving object, the weight of the object and the distance within which the object is stopped after hitting. The greater the speed, the greater the force of impact and the more severe the damages are likely to be in the case of a collision.

YOUR HEALTH by Graeme F. Joyce, D.C.

ARE YOU SUFFERING FROM A HEALTH PROBLEM? If so read this notice.

Today many people accept many ailments of ill health with the stride of life. Many times they rationalize by saying to themselves, "Oh well, you can't stay young forever," or "Now that I am getting older, I suppose I am to expect these sort of things." In most cases, this is a fallacy or they are just in the habit of rationalizing.

Today with the many advances of knowledge in the healing arts and particularly with the modern Chiropractors education many of these problems are becoming less and less of a problem.

The Chiropractor is taught how to locate the cause of a symptom and then correct it. When the cause is corrected the symptom disappears. Remember, for every cause there is an effect and for every effect there is a cause.

The nervous system is the controlling system of the entire body's function. If there is any interference with this controlling system, the other systems will sooner or later begin to show their affects of them. It may happen anywhere in your body, to any system, and show any or many effects.

If this is checked in the early stages before it has had time to develop into a serious condition you may save yourself many hours off work and many uncomfortable moments—let alone the serious affect it may have on your system.

To live happier and enjoy a longer and happier life, be aware of your health today. Chiropractic has helped many cases and will continue to serve humanity to live better lives longer.—Adv.

Christmas Doll Show Exhibit Open for Holiday Viewing

"The Night Before Christmas" exhibition sponsored by the Oakland and Bay Area Doll Club is on display at the Oakland Public Museum through January 2.

The dolls and toys are from the Doll Club members and the museum collections, including the Virginia Powell bequest.

Eighteenth century nativity figures are the oldest on exhibit. Others from the Victorian era include wax dolls, French fashion, china and baby dolls. From the early 20th century are kewpies, baby and paper dolls, boy's toys.

The group of terra-cotta creche dolls loaned by Ruth Bettelheim, director of Region II, United Federation of Doll Clubs, Inc., were used in the private chapel of a well known Italian family in Naples for well over one hundred years. Just after World War II, while our troops occupied Italy, they were put up for sale by the family and purchased by a Californian.

The idea of the apple dolls, original creations made by Mrs. W. W. Nicholson, stems from the Iroquois and Seneca Indians who made dolls out of eating apples. The Indians, however, left no directions for creating the dolls.

Any media, including avocado or sweet potato, used. The process is molding and finally determining the shape influencing the finalization in such figures as Abraham Lincoln.

From the collection of the Gordon Bennett of Oakland, papier mache Revolutionary War soldier on exhibit was purchased from a museum in New York City who authenticated it and use as a means of tracing messages across enemy lines. The body is hollow. The figures were used for the purpose of getting messages across lines was because at that time they were adored by teenagers. It was not unusual for a doll to present a doll to a heart so it follows that they were not under suspicion they crossed the lines carrying a doll.

Also in the display is a collection of United Nations dolls in full costumes loaned by Mrs. W. W. Nicholson. The dolls from many lands and interesting Siamese dancers model of George Washington dancers from Hungary and land, as well as many dolls from the African countries.

Letters

Editor:
Throughout the years of living in Albany, one theatre after another closed down; the Rivoli, the theatres in El Cerrito, the theatres in Richmond. Somehow it was comforting to know we had the Albany theatre at a reasonable price.
Too sadly, I realize how complacent we were. It was with great dismay I first heard about the new owner, and the new policy.

Albany has always been a family town. Parents have been happy to send their children to the matinees on Saturday afternoons; knowing they were safe in our town. On the occasions when I took children to these matinees, it was an ordeal, true enough, but still there was a great sense of satisfaction, knowing these children had somewhere to go. Where will the children go now?

The family-type Sunday evening movie was a place where families could gather companionably, greet friends and enjoy the evening. My personal opinion is that Albany needs an art-type theatre like it needs a hole in the head! To university students, struggling to get an education, the price of two tickets is food for several days. To older people who have been able to afford the reasonable price, this form of enjoyment is now out of the question. When other theatres remained empty because of their high prices, the Albany theatre always seemed to be a paying proposition. I was always proud and pleased at the turn-out.

Even though I have no children, I am terribly saddened by the new regime. I am sad for all these parents. I am sad for the children, and I am truly sorry that through the years I did not take the time to personally tell Mr. Garren what a great job he was doing. Not just on behalf of the children, but for all of Albany.

Sincerely,
MRS. THOMAS CONROY

THE NEED FOR A WILL

Californians, who like to insure everything—their cars, houses, their lives... even their guests' right to break a leg on the front doorstep and get paid for it—have largely ignored the cheapest insurance of all: a valid Will.

It is estimated that of the some 150,000 people who died in California last year, at least 60 per cent died without a Will of their own. Without a Will of "their own" means that if a person fails to make a Will, it is made for him by the state. The catch in this arrangement is that the state sometimes fails to see things his way; it has no insight into special family problems nor his intentions.

The state doesn't know about the brother who hasn't spoken to you since you were married and who has no right to share in the money you and your spouse managed to save. Or that your closest relative may not be the No. 1 choice to bring up your tender offspring.

Bankers and lawyers alike are unanimous in recommending Wills for everyone. They believe that every adult should have a Will even if his estate amounts to no more than one dollar. One bank trust officer explained: "You never know what will happen to you. You may be run over by a truck and, because of a suit, your estate may be richer by one hundred thousand dollars."

At the same time trust officers in banks emphasize that Wills should be drafted, if possible, by a lawyer who knows his client's circumstances well. No bank will write a Will or give legal advice. Banks administer estates, however, when named executors of Wills.

In neglecting to make a Will, an individual is in effect letting the state make his Will and name his beneficiaries. Quite often this results in sadness, hardships, and corrosive bitterness.

Minimum age requirement for execution of a Will in California is 18 for Wills covering either real or personal property. California law permits a man to disinherit his children or other near relatives, but it requires him to make some mention of them to show he had them in mind.

Just having a Will, of course, does not automatically eliminate all pitfalls. However, the only thing worse than having no Will at all is having one that has a defect, often the home-grown variety—a Will drawn without the help of a lawyer. The latter can be a cruel booby trap.

In Southern California, for example, a man wrote his Will on a piece of stationery that carried his name printed at the top. The judge threw it out because it was no entirely handwritten as expressly required by law.

Only inner family history can explain some of the mysterious directions in Wills. Bequests have been made to dogs, cats, horses, goldfish, parrots, and even pigs.

There is also the case of a long-suffering husband who was ordered to smoke his cigars outside his luxurious house during the entire 45 years of married life. When he died, he left his wife $1 million with one provision—that she smoke a cigar a day. The lady was outraged, but the court ruled that the condition must be met.

But even a revenge Will is better than no Will at all. Some trust officers who have seen the daily headaches caused by people who die without leaving a valid Will believe this so strongly that they spend much of their time lecturing on its perils.

"I believe the best insurance anyone can leave those he loves is a good, lawyer-drawn Will.

Caution is necessary on the roads at all times. The National Automobile Club points out that last year 48,000 people lost their lives in traffic accidents in the United States.

Kathleen Sue Glass Marries Fred Hendrickson

Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick C. Hendrickson

The marriage of Kathleen Sue Glass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glass, 1109 Evelyn Avenue, Berkeley, to Fredrick Charles Hendrickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred O. Hendrickson of Albany, was celebrated at the Grace Lutheran Church in Berkeley. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length white sheath of chalk crepe with a fitted lace empire bodice and a shallow scoop neckline and long tapered sleeves. The gown had a shirred bodice and a brush train. A scalloped queen's crown, studded with pearls, held a veil edged with lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and stephanotis with white catolaya orchids. Her only jewelry was a pearl pendant, gift of the groom. Gowned in coral floor length empire styled dresses, they carried cascade bouquets of coral and white gladiolus.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred O. Hendrickson of Albany, chose as his best man Dennis Hendrickson, his brother. His ushers were John Hendrickson, his other brother, and Jerry Gordon and Dennis McLaughlin.

The reception following the wedding, at which Rev. O. R. Janke was the officiating clergyman, was held in the Brazilian Room at Tilden Park.

The mother of the bride, Mrs. Glass, wore a sheath dress and jacket in mauve pin and rose brocade with matching rose accessories. Mrs. Hendrickson, mother of the groom, wore a gold and moss green brocade ensemble with matching accessories.

Kathleen's brother, Leland, and her niece, Janet Giacomini, circulated among the guests carrying baskets filled with packets of rice. Nancy Willbanks was in charge of the guestbook. Among the guests at the wedding was the grandmother of the bride from Antioch, Mrs. Frank Ellsworth.

Both Kathleen and Fred were graduates of Albany High School.

The groom is employed by the Federal Land Bank in Berkeley, is continuing his studies at Armstrong College where he is majoring in accounting and business administration.

The popular Albany couple are now at home on Curtis Street following their honeymoon at Lake Tahoe.

AWARDS FOR HIGH QUALITY WORK performance during the past year were recently earned by two Albany residents. They are Mrs. Virginia E. Ebert (left) and Mrs. Doris M. Petrie of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Western utilization research laboratory on Buchanan St. in Albany. Pay increases accompanied the awards. Mrs. Ebert, 500 Key Route Blvd., is a secretary to the Chief of the Pharmacology Laboratory and has been a resident of Albany for a number of years. Mrs. Petrie, formerly of Richmond, moved with her family to 904 Jackson St. about a year ago. She is secretary to the Plant Superintendent of the laboratory.

SENIOR CITIZENS

846 Masonic Ave.

by Emma Claymore

The most wonderful news from the Senior Center is that a new Baldwin piano now stands in the Center. The Seniors are justly proud of it as it is the result of their own work and efforts plus some donations. It was installed in time for the Thanksgiving party held Nov. 16. The Thanksgiving party was a happy affair. Dinner was served to 121 people and included two guests.

The turkeys were roasted by Edith Towle, Edith Langry, Kathryn Kay and Celeste Turpin. The tables were decorated by Florence Bridgeford and Gertrude Garden. The kitchen detail was under the chairmanship of Marie Rennie assisted by Maria Alivera, Cecelia Chilton, Nettie Boyle, Ruth Baird, Herb Healy and Bud Rooney. Herb was the coffee maker and was as much at home with a bevy of women as a "Shiek in a Harem." Bud was as much of a "cut up" as ever and proved it by carving all the turkeys!

The chairman of the waitresses was Eleanor Kern.

The dinner was preceded by a prayer by Chaplin Joy Tucker. The menu was turkey, dressing, yams, mixed vegetables, hot rolls, celery, olives, pickles, cranberry salad topped off by pumpkin pie and coffee.

After dinner, President Tena Gregory introduced the honored guests: Mayor Lewis Howell and Frank Graeber. They each responded with a few words of praise for the dinner and for the Seniors.

Community singing was then enjoyed under the leadership of Clara Edlefsen with Helen Connolly at the piano.

A Look at Books for Children

This is the time of the year that features a look at books for children.

Children's Book Week and Christmas bring to the attention of parents the gaily jacketed books, some new and some reprints, from both eastern and western publishers.

It is also a reminding time that the winner this year of the Caldecott Award was "May I Bring A Friend," with pictures by Beni Montresor and text by Beatrice Schenk de Regniers. The award is for the most distinguished American picture book for children. The Newbery Award book, "Shadow of a Bull," by Maia Wolciehowski and illustrated by Alvin Smith, was judged the most distinguished contribution to American literature for children.

No Christmas gift equals a book. Science, history, adventure and fantasy through the book-world has a permanence unequalled by any other story telling media. Never has a fall season seen richness compared to this one.

The book store is a fine place to visit—for both young and old during the holiday season. But for any season—the Albany Free Library is a finer place to visit. Your first visit gives you membership; and as posters said, "Happiness is Owning Your Own

Requests Granted!

Due to numerous requests, the Times is reprinting the recipe for low sodium and fat Apple Date Bars for Albanyites on modified diets.

- 1½ cups coarsely chopped dates
- ½ cup applesauce
- 2 T. sugar
- ¾ cup water
- ½ tsp. cinnamon
- ½ tsp. grated lemon rind
- 2 tsp. lemon juice
- 3 T. vegetable oil
- ¼ cup light brown sugar
- ¾ cup sugar
- ¾ cup sifted all purpose flour
- 1½ cup uncooked rolled oats

To prepare filling: Mix together in a saucepan the first seven ingredients. Cook five minutes over low heat, stirring constantly. Allow to cool.

To prepare crumb mixture: Blend oil and sugar in a bowl; stir in flour and oats, blending well. Place two-thirds of this mixture in an oiled and floured oblong pan. Pat mixture to evenly cover bottom of pan. Spread with all of cooled filling and cover with other third of crumb mixture. Pat lightly and bake in 350 degree oven until golden brown (45 minutes). Makes 20 squares.

Ski Class Opens

The chill is in the air and all ski enthusiasts are awaiting the first snowfall in the mountains, so the Richmond YVCA has again planned their popular introduction to skiing class to prepare everyone—school children, adults and families—for winter fun.

Phil Dacey, the Squaw Valley Ski School instructor, will conduct the classes. Included in their schedule will be lectures, movies, equipment demonstration, exercises and dry-land ski practice in Nicholl Park. Beginning ski techniques, the snow plow, kick turn, stem turn and how to fall will be demonstrated and practiced.

The three-week ski school will be held at the Memorial Youth Center on Thursday evenings beginning Dec. 2. There will be a short meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 30, at 7:30 p.m. to discuss the equipment needed for the class. Practice equipment can be rented for a moderate fee.

Registration for the ski school may be made at the Memorial Youth Center, 3230 Macdonald Ave., Richmond. Fees for the course range from $3 to $12, plus Y membership. Special group rates are available.

Forty Niners Give Thanksgiving Dance

Forty Niners' Dance Club will meet Saturday, Nov. 27, for its Thanksgiving dance, at Grove Recreation Center, 1730 Oregon St., Berkeley.

According to Mrs. Dolores Gilbert, refreshment hostess, special recognition for the November birthdays of guests and the following members, Mmes. Maude Jacoby, Lydia Bollinger, Alma Adams, Frances Thomas, Robert Bigby and Herbert Uth.

The club meets the second and fourth Saturdays of each month, 8 to 11 p.m.

New shipments of children's books, and young adults' books, arrive weekly; adding to the colorful display in the section reserved just for the young. Among those in recent shipments, and now on the shelves are James Eichner's "First Book of Local Government," Victor Van Hagen's "Maya, Land of the Turkey and the Deer," Allan Garner's "The Weirstone," Robert Lopshire's "How to Make Flippers, Etc.," Alvin Tresselt's "The Mitten," Shirley Glubok's "The Art of Ancient Rome," Laura Benet's "Famous American Poets," Natalie Belting's "Calendar Moon," Elizabeth Dean's "Painting—Tool of Freedom," Meinhard De Jang's "Far Out the Long Canal," Ruth Fenison's "Boy Wanted," and Emily Neville's "Berries Goodman." Parents are also reminded of another popular program featured at the Albany Library—Pauline Hale's popular story hour for the pre-school child, held every Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. Enrich your child's life with a book during the holiday season. One of his own favorite bookstore, or one still—half a dozen—from the Albany Library.

Farmers New World Life Ins. can now draw against their life insurance Company policy owners insurance death benefits to finance artificial kidney machine treatments for themselves, according to word received here today from R. C. von Rosenberg, president, by Robert L. Nehls, District Manager for Farmers Insurance Group in Berkeley-Albany-EI Cerrito area.

Believed to be the first time life insurance death benefits have been made available to sustain productive life, the company's pioneering action was based on an extensive study that began in 1964 when its officials became aware of the success of the famed University of Washington kidney machine center.

In a message currently being mailed to policy owners, Von Rosenberg outlined the seriousness of the problem of chronic kidney failure along with the hope of reducing the costs in the future.

"A few years ago, chronic kidney failure meant death within six months," said Von Rosenberg.

"The number of such deaths is relatively small, between 5,000 and 10,000 annually, but to the victims and their families the economic and personal loss can not be measured."

He explained that the development of the artificial kidney machine offers the promise that many of these untimely deaths can be prevented.

"At present, the biggest obstacle to this treatment is expense—the cost of one year's treatment is about $10,000.00. It is probable that this cost will be reduced sharply in the years ahead, but to those afflicted, the problem is immediate."

Policyholders who need the life-giving aid of the artificial kidney were asked to contact the company.

"We have been authorized by our Board of Directors to consider advancing money against future death benefits to approved kidney machine centers," said Von Rosenberg. "The amount cannot exceed $10,000.00 in any one year, nor can the total amount exceed 50 per cent of the available death benefit."

Farmers New World Life Insurance Company is a member of the Farmers Insurance Group. By year end it will have $1 billion of insurance in force with more than 200,000 policyholders.

Awards For Boy Scouts Of Troop 19

Seven boys joined Boy Scout Troop 19 by achieving the Tenderfoot rank at a Court of Honor held recently at Cornell School in Albany.

The boys were Stephen Ainsworth, Greg Bachman, Bob Humphrey, Kurt Jenkins, James Bralley, David Kelley, and Edward Bent.

Young Ainsworth was presented the same Tenderfoot pin originally awarded to his father, Scoutmaster John Ainsworth. Also present was former Scoutmaster of Troop 19, "Irv" Waterbury, who made the first presentation to Ainsworth 35 years ago.

At the same Court of Honor the rank of Second Class Scout was awarded to David Wells, Dan Wells, and Ken Berman. Malcolm Smith achieved the rank of First Class Scout.

Higher ranks were awarded to six young men. Jim McKenna and Bill Millard became Star Scouts, while Russell Heath, Bruce Hamrick, and Ned Nicolls were awarded the rank of Life Scout. The rarely-awarded Gold Eagle Palm was presented to Leverett Smith, who also serves as Scribe for Troop 19.

Merit badges were awarded to 12 boys: John Seidell, Leverett Smith, Roger Reynolds, Steve Eisner, David McKenna, Russell Heath, Bruce Hamrick, Jim McKenna, Tod Bachman, Malcolm Smith, and Ned Nicolls.

Troop 19 has 39 members living Berkeley and Albany. Troop meetings are held regularly on Wednesday evenings at Northbrae Community Church. Other troop officers include Assistant Scoutmasters Ed Eisner and Jack Murrow. The senior patrol leader is Eagle Scout Tim Patton.

Erikka Nielsen Exhibiting at Albany Library

Another coup can be chalked up for the Albany Free Library, which has on exhibit at the present time the outstanding work of Erikka Nielsen.

Erikka Nielsen was a pupil at the California College for Arts and Crafts, where she studied with George Post and George Harris. As a child, she was taught by her mother, who formerly held classes on the fine arts in San Francisco. Miss Nielsen works as a commercial artist in Oakland.

"Marine Still Life," one of her works in the current exhibition at the Library, was shown in the Northern California Arts Exhibition of 1963, at the Crocker Galleries in Sacramento. The work was also shown at the Vintage Festival in Sonoma, where it was awarded two prizes; one for "Best Still Life," the other for "Most Popular."

Also exhibiting is Albany's Emily Fetisoff, 626 Masonic, an old favorite whose works have always delighted Albany's art lovers.
